Although the Lady Comets struggled a bit during the first part of the game, they got it going in the second half and hung on for a 45-42 non-conference victory over Winston-Salem State University. "We got into some problems in the first half, offensively," said Lees-McRae coach Curtis Stewart. "We weren't able to get a lot of success getting the ball inside." Datsyn Shcherbakov, a 5-foot-10 senior guard who scored 15 points, was the player who got the Lady Comets back on track with a strong second half. After leading by one point at halftime, Shcherbakov made a couple free throws and then finished the half with a pair of baskets for a 30-27 lead with 11:54 left. Winston-Salem State (1-0) made six 3-pointers on its way to a 39-27 lead with 9:45 left. But Lees-McRae (0-1) regained control down the stretch, holding the Rams to 31 percent (14 of 45) shooting and took the lead for good with 3:25 left. Winston-Salem State was led by Maria Miller, a guard from Miami, who had eight points and five rebounds. With just over a minute left, Trista Patton, a 6-foot-1 senior guard from Charlotte, set up a three-point play with a nice reverse layup. That tied the game at 40-40 and sent it into the final minute. After an official timeout, the Rams got a basket from Miller to take the lead for good. Shcherbakov led Lees-McRae with 15 points and Jennifer Thompson added 12. Pat McRae led the Lady Comets with five rebounds, while Baily Steiner and Sophie Brice each added
